

Press Release, Barracuda Racing Wheels Europe:
Sabrina Doberstein presents the Barracuda Ultralight Project 2.0

Starting immediately, the team at Barracuda Racing Wheels will be supported by model Sabrina Doberstein in public appearances and especially at trade fairs. In addition, the well-known fashion model will be presenting the Ultralight Project 2.0 from the Barracuda Ultralight wheel series that comes in two finishes, gunmetal and silver brushed.

She received help from her "co-model": a BMW M4 that is going around on a set of these especially light wheels. The flow forming process used to manufacture them is to thank for their extremely low weight. This open sports car from Munich boasts 9x20" (559 euros) and 10.5x20" (599 euros) weight-optimized rims, combined with 15mm spacers on the front axle. What makes the gunmetal wheels so visually appealing are the car-colored accents on the rim flange. The tires measure 255/30R20 and 285/30R20.

The visual enhancement of the M4 is complemented by lower suspension setting amounting to 45 millimeters in front and 35 millimeters in the rear, made possible by a KW Variant 3 coilover suspension (from 2,199 euros). What is more, additional components are available on request, such as exhaust systems, body kits or performance enhancements from the tuning and accessory specialists at JMS Fahrzeugteile and HS Motorsport.

A good opportunity to get to know the Barracuda Racing Wheels program and Sabrina Doberstein in person will be the Tuning World Bodensee. Both will be present in Hall B1 at Stand 401.
