Piecha Design meets Extreme Customs: New body kit and more on the Jaguar F-Type facelift

Piecha Design has been a well-known and well-established brand for high-quality tuning components for many years. While the label primarily stands for first-class Mercedes upgrades, a second pillar was the specialization in Jaguar optimizations. This is impressively demonstrated by the Jaguar F-Type Coupé presented here from the time after the first, smaller facelift.

The sporty two-door model received a complete body kit from the Piecha design portfolio, for which JMS Fahrzeugteile took over exclusive sales worldwide in 2022. The kit consists of front cup wings, side skirts, a diffuser and a racing rear wing. This gives the distinctively designed Jaguar an even more dynamic and beefy appearance. Of course, all parts come with an associated TUV parts certificate. They are also suitable for F-Types from before the facelift.

The body kit was installed by Extreme Customs specialists based in Gerolzhofen, Lower Franconia. They further refined the British coupe with a set of BBS CH-R II alloy wheels. The Y-spoke wheels measure 9x21 inches at the front and 10.5x21 inches at the rear. With their black finish, they contrast maximally with the white paintwork of the body. The tires measure 255/30ZR21 and 295/25ZR21 and the appropriate lowering is thanks to KW threaded springs.
