

Press Release, Barracuda Racing Wheels Europe: 20-inch Barracuda Virus wheels for the W221 S class

The Mercedes S class is a real star of the luxury sedan market. Not only is it one of the most comfortable and classy ways to drive around, it is also a technological trailblazer. But it is also a popular specimen for fine-tuning and customization. Take this model from the W221 series, for example, which is kitted out with a set of high-quality Barracuda Racing Wheels.

The sedan – flaunted flawlessly by the Barracuda brand ambassador, the model Sabrina Doberstein – sits on Barracuda Virus alloy rims in 9x20" ET40 (€449) and 10.5x20" ET40 (€479). They are mounted on the axles with the addition of spacers (front 10 mm, back 20 mm) and fitted with 245/35 R20 and 275/30 R20 tires. Full gray matte wrapping is the perfect complement to the wheels with their matte gunmetal finish.

In addition, a KW DLC module (€1,299, with parts certificate) made it possible to lower the air suspension system during manufacture, reducing the height of the chassis by around 35 millimeters. Special thanks go to the company Premio in Oberhausen, the local Barracuda Racing Wheels support center, for modifying the car.

The light-alloy wheels from the extensive Barracuda rim range can be obtained at car dealerships or well-stocked tire and specialist stores. Alternatively, they – along with all additional facts, including price and delivery information – can be obtained directly from:
